

Notices and Terms of Use

Welcome to the Family Allergy and Asthma (PSF, LLC) web site. We maintain this site to provide information about services we offer to our patients and as a general source of information about allergy and asthma related topics. The information is designed to support, not replace, the relationship that exists between a patient/site visitor and his/her physician.

We may provide links to other sites we believe may provide useful information from time to time. Links to a third party site or information do not constitute our sponsorship or endorsement of the information found there or its operator.

Family Allergy and Asthma personally finances and supports the operation and content of this website. No outside financial support is accepted.

Privacy Policy

This Privacy Policy sets forth the data collection and usage practices that apply to data collected through and use of this site. By your use of this site, you consent to the use of any data collected by us in accordance with this policy. Family Allergy and Asthma will not sell, give, lend or rent any information if it can be identified as yours which we receive from you through our site without your consent, except as described below. We reserve the right to disclose information we receive from you through this site if we, in good faith, believe that disclosure is required by law or necessary or appropriate to stop interference with our site or to stop injury to someone else. We use your confidential information internally, for the purposes of providing you with information about the practice and other items we believe might be of interest to you. We may also gather general information about users of this site and how they use the site. This policy does not govern use of information from or about you obtained other than through this site.

Presently, we do not use a feature on your Internet browser known as a “cookie;” however, we may use the feature at some time in the future to enhance your experience at our site. Cookies, among other things, allow our system to remember user names and passwords and track what pages you view in order to personalize your visits to our site. You may at any time set your browser to reject cookies. We will use our best efforts to prevent you from receiving unsolicited mail or spam through use of our site. However, unless you tell us otherwise, we may send you e-mail updates or notices of events or activities which we believe may be of interest to you.

Our site is designed for those who are 18 years of age or older. We do not intentionally collect any information from anyone under 18.

We reserve the right to change this Privacy Policy at any time. We ask you to periodically review this Privacy Policy to ensure that you are familiar with the most current version of the Privacy Policy.

You can view your personal information at any time. If your personal information is incorrect in any way, if you would like to have all or any portion of it removed, or if you have any questions about this Privacy Policy, our practices, or your interaction with our site, please contact our Privacy Officer at (800) 999-1249.
